The conference will include topics on watersheds and riparian areas as well as Best Management Practices for managing cattle, horses, and feral hogs. There will also be topics over how to manage and control key brush species within watersheds.

3 CEUs for pesticide applicators will be provided through the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Registration is only $35 which includes lunch and an interactive float trip down the South Llano River for the first 20 registrants who wish to participate!

For more information and to register, visit https://agriliferegister.tamu.edu/water or call 979-845-2604.